

A message from the Head of School to Parents...

On

Monday we will take part in Odd Socks Day for Anti-Bullying Week, which encourages us to join together to show that it's okay to be different and to stand up against bullying and discrimination. Children can wear odd mismatched socks on this day. We look forward to seeing their combinations and discussing anti-bullying in assembly and in our classes.

As part of Anti-Bullying week we also have a whole school workshop on Wednesday afternoon.
